My help with the Emergency Fire situation at the Evacuation Centre. By Avril Pryor

I was rostered on at the ExServos Club along with Leonie Smith and Grant Schultz on the 1st January 2020 to serve the fires breakfast. As we were waiting to serve the fires we saw Michelle Babington's partner and he mentioned that Michelle needs urgent help down at the Evacuation Centre, without hesitation and as soon as we finished serving the fires, we all went down straight away and assisted in whatever way we could.

From that day forward I was there for 2 full weeks. I worked with all the teams of taking our community who lost homes, had damage to property, businesses effected, those wishing to register as an evacuee to see the Red Cross, Anglicare, the Salvation Army, St John Ambulance, Paramedics, the Chaplains, Disaster Welfare and FACS. One by one they all came over the 2 weeks, I sat with people to keep them calm, being a listener, sharing a few tears, being a comfort, giving a hug, getting them food and drinks, making tea or coffee, looked after the many dogs and cats giving them water, food, taking the dogs for walks. I cleared off tables, grabbed garbage bag after garbage bag and kept tidying up. In the bottom of the Civic Centre a lot of people also stayed the night or a few nights.

I mentioned to Michelle Babington and Alison Wells that I would look after the people below whilst taking people upstairs to register as an evacuee or who had lost homes, taking them to the appropriate agencies. People were coming in and out and donations of bed linen were getting dropped off constantly. I ensured that the bottom and the top was kept as tidy as possible and that included, vacuuming floors and stairways, doing dishes, clearing tables, folding blankets, sheets, blowing up air mattresses, telling young people to get off their phones and stop filming them at their most vulnerable time, being an interpreter for those who can't speak English very well, looking at Google Maps and trying to tell desperate tourists who had to get back to Sydney that they need to stay put as we were closed in, improvising and using sign language and hand signals, searching high and low for power points, shopping for essential supplies.

I have never in my life walked around Woolworths with about 10 trolley loads full of supplies for Evac Centre, (photo is attached). Over $2k later. Filling bowls of water for pets outside. I have seen people an absolute mess, a young guy not even 20 years old, with his beautiful little girl born 2 months premature and pet dog, lost his house in Nelligen near Batemans Bay. So very sad. I played play doh, and card games (Uno) with the kids. The cheeky blighters will make you draw 4 over and over again.

I would to acknowledge that Yvonne Young, Phil Brown, Wayne Fry, Grant Schultz, Bec Cameron and Leonie Smith, all assisted in various ways doing what I was doing at the Evacuation Centre and then they all dropped in from time to time to make sure we were going okay and to offer some help of which I was so grateful for. My 2nd week in the Evacuation Centre proved just as busy as the 1st.

Every day for the 2 weeks I worked big long days from 7am in the morning until about 7pm at night like all of us there. Many truck loads kept coming with donations from Queensland and I made that many calls to Grant Schultz and Phil Brown letting them know more was on its way to the showground. The second week was probably the hardest, I helped those that lost homes, had property damage get some basics as we had set up a mini shop at the Evacuation Centre of which we called Cosco.

I loaded people up with goods, took it to their cars, heard story after story and comforted those people. I assisted in putting bags of essentials together for the communities at Lake Conjola, Fishermans Paradise and further out so it could be delivered to them. By about Thursday of the 2nd week I was there, the Evacuation Centre then turns into a Recovery Centre and I helped with cleaning up, letting down air mattresses, creating a list of those who had left donated linen and calling them, sorting out in tidy piles sheets, blankets, mattresses so people could come in and find their belongings all while sitting with people and being a comfort as they saw the agency they needed to see. This was a community effort.
